

2021 DONORS & SPONSORS

The Grand Teton Music Festival acknowledges the generous contributions of our loyal donors. Nearly 600 individuals provide financial support for countless performances and events, as well as education and community engagement programs that reach music lovers of all ages in our community throughout the year. Individual contributions account for more than 60 percent of the Festival's annual budget. Thank you to those who play their part to ensure the Festival's success.

Over the past year, the Festival pivoted to online programming to continue fulfilling our mission of providing exhilarating musical experiences to our community. These virtual offerings included Music from the Mountains, last summer's online mini-festival, and GTMF On Location, a five-concert digital chamber music series featuring small ensembles of our Festival Orchestra musicians, recorded and produced remotely across the country in their home cities. These reimagined offerings were only possible with the help of our generous community of supporters.

For more information about making a donation, including benefits and sponsorship opportunities, please contact Andy Mahoney, Acting Development Director, at 307.732.9962 or mahoney@gtmf.org.

THE FOLLOWING DONATIONS WERE MADE BETWEEN MAY 1, 2020 AND MAY 31, 2021.

Old Bill's Fun Run

Each September, the Jackson Hole community gathers for the philanthropic celebration of Old Bill's Fun Run. This event has raised over $189 million for local nonprofits and has touched thousands of lives since its beginning in 1997. We are grateful to the 2020 Old Bill's Fun Run Co-Challengers and Friends of the Match, and to those listed below who specifically designated their gifts to the Grand Teton Music Festival.

The Sullivan Society

In 2013, the Grand Teton Music Festival was the recipient of a generous and humbling bequest from the estate of Pike and Sue Sullivan. This gift brought the Festival's endowment funds to more than $10 million, and we have created The Sullivan Society in their honor.

This society commemorates benefactors who create bequests, charitable trusts, and other planned gifts that leave lasting legacies for the Festival. Members of our Sullivan Society play a key role in ensuring that the Festival's long-term growth and fiscal stability are secure. Those listed below have pledged their support of the Grand Teton Music Festival through planned gifts.

If you have also included the Festival in your estate plans or would like to discuss planned giving options, please contact Andy Mahoney, Acting Development Director, at 307.732.9962 or mahoney@gtmf.org.

Homeowners

One of the largest expenses for GTMF is housing our exceptional musicians. We are very grateful to our homeowners, with whom we have built important relationships over the years and who graciously provide housing during the Festival. To inquire about renting or donating your home to the Festival, please contact Troy Messner, Housing Associate, at housing@gtmf.org.
